Workshop will train volunteer tutors

A workshop for training volunteer tutors in teaching adults how to read will be held Friday, March 6, from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m., continuing Saturday, March 7, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library on Hwy. 90 in Bay St. Louis.

The 12-hour workshop, given by Patty Knox and Joan Ogle of Operation Mainstream, the New Orleans adult literacy program, will result in Laubach Literacy certification for volunteer tutors and is open to any adult who wishes to volunteer to teach another adult how to read.

Upon completion of the workshop, tutors will be assigned students, working one-on-one using Laubach materials during evening sessions each week at the library.

A literacy fund has been established to help defray the cost of training, materials and the literacy project. To pre-register for the workshop or to contribute to the fund, contact the library at 467-5222.

Power Company concerned about citizens being victimized

Robert Occhi, General Manager of Coast Electric Power Association has expressed concern over local news reports which state citizens in this area are being victimized by burglars and thieves posing as utility employees.

"This week's incident in Pearlinton, where individuals gained entry into a home after presenting themselves as 'REA' employees, is becoming a common form of deception used by burglars," commented.

Occhi encourages all residents to question anyone who claims to represent coast Electric. "All of our employees carry identification cards which will verify their employment with our Association," he stated. "Also, most of our field employees wear company uniforms and are driving marked vehicles that bear the Coast Electric emblem on the doors," he added.

Occhi also stated that as a general rule, Coast Electric has no door-to-door salesmen, nor do they employ construction contractors who may offer maintenance or repair services, home weatherization work, or "free" inspections to check for wiring or high bill problems.

A homeowner's best defense in dealing with this type of situation is to ask the unknown caller for his or her name and ask to see some form of identification.

"Residents, confronted with this type of situation, should have the person or persons wait outside the home, lock the door, and contact the firm or employer and verify employment," urged Occhi.

Additionally, local law enforcement agencies should be contacted if the caller leaves the scene or refuses to show proper I.D. suggests Occhi.

"There are a lot of people living on those little side roads now. There are many more than people realize," he added.

The chamber president said that traffic and accident statistics and photographs are now being compiled and the chamber plans to make a public announcement before circulating a petition that will be presented to legislators and highway commissioners.

The chamber also plans to encourage people to write to their legislators about the 603 problem. Dubuisson added the timing for the petition is particularly good since it is an election year and the legislature has passed a highway program bill which does not include Highway 603.

The supervisors have attempted to have the highway four-laned as far as I-10 or the Highway 43 junction in Kiln, but the chamber is planning to work toward getting 603 four-laned all the way to 53.

Other problems the chamber board wants to have corrected include improperly banked curves and deep ditches that fill with water, creating a danger of drowning for unconscious accident victims.

facial injuries.

Later at the accident scene, Hancock County Deputy Mike Siebert received minor injuries when the brakes on a truck approaching the accident site failed and the vehicle knocked him down, Dorr said.

Dorr said he had just completed work at the site of an 11:45 accident on Interstate 10 about a half-mile from the Mississippi-Louisiana state line and was refueling his patrol car at Diamondhead when he was summoned to the 603 crash.

In the accident on I-10, Dorr said a 1984 Toyota driven by Kenneth R. Human of Slidell, La., collided with the rear end of a 10-wheeled Chevrolet truck driven by Jose Guadalupe Najera of La Pryor, Texas.

Both vehicles were in the west-bound lane, with the car following the truck.

Although there was extensive damage to the car, which had a section of its roof torn away, a passenger, Lizette Human of Slidell, sustained only facial injuries the trooper reported.

She and a 6-month-old passenger, Kenneth Human Jr., were taken to Northshore Hospital in Slidell for treatment, Dorr said.

In the other accident on 603, which occurred Friday, 42-year-old Rhoda Bollingham of Harvey, La., was thrown out of a 1976 Grand Prix involved in a two-car collision between Tigris Street and Avenue B.

Stiglet said she died of multiple head injuries.

Bollingham was a passenger in a vehicle driven by Debbie Bond, 27, also of Harvey. Bond and a nine-year-old boy in the car were both injured, as were seven members of a Picayune family in the other vehicle, a Dodge station wagon.

That accident, investigated by State Trooper Curtis Newman, occurred at about 7 p.m. Newman said Bond's vehicle apparently went off the shoulder of the road, then turned sideways in the path of the north-bound station wagon.

The medical technicians were MSG Clyde Smith, Sgt. Alan Muller, Lt. Rob Steed, AIC Pete Pirolo, Sgt. Leslie Ivins, SRA Marvin Howell, AIC Glen Smith, SRA Michael Sharp and AMN Mike Madison.

"Throughout the move we have very few problems and those were minor," he said.

"We are still settling in but we are fully operable and the emergency room has been quite busy since Monday morning," Wolfe said.

Wolfe also said the asphalt paving work remaining to be completed at the hospital site will begin as soon as weather permits.

He reminded hospital visitors that the main entrance is on Drinkwater Street and the entrance on US-90 is for emergency and out-patient surgery.

legitimate," Seay stated.

He said he had talked with Coast Electric officials, who had no knowledge of the incident.

In addition, Coast Electric has no one in the field requesting permission to go inside houses to check wiring.

Seay said similar incidents in which thieves had used the names of utilities to gain entrance to homes and businesses have been reported before.

He asked anyone with information regarding the incident contact the sheriff's department at 467-5101.

Seay is in charge of the investigation.

The death toll continues to mount on Highway 603

We wonder just how many more people will have to be killed on Highway 603 (43) in Hancock County before actions are taken to four-lane this vital roadway.

Short of four-laning, paved shoulders on both sides of the heavily traveled artery would save lives and prevent many injuries.

Four lives were lost this past weekend, one Friday night and three Saturday night, with nine others requiring hospital treatment after the Friday night crash and a Hancock County deputy sheriff treated for injuries sustained when he was hit by a truck while assisting at the scene of the Saturday night carnage in which there were no survivors.

There is no other way to travel north and south in Hancock County without going many, many extra miles around.

Since Highway 603 snakes through and divides the county from one end to the other, it is the most vital roadway in the county.

It is not a new highway, but is among the oldest roadways in Hancock County.

You know it is a dangerous highway when residents of the area avoid using Highway 603, if there is any way possible.

There have been studies done on traffic count; this is good, but it appears loss of life counts would mean something in decisions made by the State Highway Department.

Mississippi Legislators have passed a vast highway construction program for the state, yet Highway 603 is not included because our state leaders are more concerned with economics than loss of life.

In conversations with State Senator Gene Taylor and State Representative Walter J. Phillips, who both opposed the highway expansion program as it passed both chambers, they reported they tried their hardest to get dangerous Highway 603 added to the bill.

It would be eye-opening for senators and representatives to come down to Hancock County and talk to the residents, so they can get a first hand report on the fears of residents and numbers of families broken because of lost loved ones on dangerous Highway 603.

It is apparent the Legislators as a whole have ignored the serious reports made about Highway 603 by our representation.

We still ask the question, just how many more people have to be killed on Highway 603?

Legislative Report

From Mississippi Reporting Service

By Ellen Ann Fentress

The pace at the Mississippi Capitol came to a near standstill last week as the 1987 session passed the halfway point.

But while little happened in the way of major floor or committee votes, reminders cropped up throughout the week of the issues still to be resolved before the Legislature's April adjournment: possibilities of higher taxes to fund an austere state budget, a $1.5 billion highway construction program and a new state constitution.

The fate of a tax increase proposal should be clearer by the end of this week, which marks the deadline for first floor action on money bills. The attention will be on the House, which could vote on increasing the state sales tax and income tax. Bills to hike both taxes won approval from subcommittees of the House Ways and Means Committee last week.

The Senate, whose leaders have endorsed a tax increase for the past several years, are deferring to the House in 1987 for a first move on higher state taxes. The Senate has passed tax packages for the past several years that have headed to their deaths in House committee rooms.

Despite last week's signs of support for a tax increase from the House subcommittee, House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Sonny Merideth remains opposed to higher taxes.

He branded the income tax proposal "outrageous and ridiculous," and he also expressed wariness of another subcommittee-approved bill to increase the state's sales tax from six to seven percent.

The income tax measure, to be retroactive to Jan. 1, calls for a four percent tax on taxable income up to $4,000 with the next $4,000 in taxable income taxed at 5 percent. All income above that would be taxed at 6 percent. The measure would generate another $104 million annually.

The rate now is 3 percent for the first $5,000, 4 percent for the next $5,000 and the surplus at 5 percent.

Estimates are that the sales tax increase will bring in an additional $148 million. The measure earmarks $70 million for highway construction, $58 million for the general fund and $15 million to cities.

The no-growth spending plan that will go into effect for the next fiscal year means no raises for state employees. The House agreed last week to freezing salaries next year 100-5 rather than giving agencies latitude to raise salaries if money was available within the agency. Freeze proponents said the move would prevent agency heads from cutting back on state services to raise employee salaries.

That decision came after the House rejected 61-52 the language giving agency heads discretion to raise salaries if funds could be found.

On highways last week, Gov. Bill Allain was critical of a $1.5 billion, 1,050 mile highway building plan backed by the House and Senate, while the two chambers both agreed to the building plan, no agreement has been reached on how to pay for the plan.

Allain prefers a 450-mile road widening plan that his office proposes.

SPECIAL SPEAKER—John W. Ribar, Ph.D., CAC, left, presents a brochure to Lucy Hazen, chairman of the Hancock County Community Planning Services last week. Ribar is the coordinator of the Substance Abuse Services of the Gulf Coast Mental Health Center. In his address to the group at its regular monthly meeting, Dr. Ribar told how Mental Health helps many residents of Hancock County with abuse-related problems. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

Quotables by Cuevas

I received a letter from my cousin Irv Cuevas in Cypress, Calif. on Saturday with the copy of a photo and story published in the L.A. Weekly mentioning a Bay St. Louis business.

The article contained a photo of Louise and Roland Taillac in their gift shop on US-90 in Bay St. Louis.

News about our folks in Hancock County sure travels throughout the country.

The article which included the Taillacs was comments from residents across the nation on President Ronald Reagan's performance.

The author travels the country writing articles for the L.A. Weekly.

The comments about the Taillacs were mostly about their many years of a successful business in Bay St. Louis.

We have noted one of the City of Bay St. Louis' workers cleaning the dead parts from the Oleanders on US-90's median.

The trees suffered heavy freeze damages and were really in need of being trimmed.

Of course, I did not do two of the oleanders which were run over by some motorist.

The trees planted in the median and along the service lanes of US-90 in Bay St. Louis sure have to go through a lot to live.

It is hoped that motorists would pay more attention to their driving.

Someone must have waved a magic wand on Sunday in order for the Krewe of Nereids to be able to parade.

When I awoke on Sunday morning, I felt the chances of having a parade in the afternoon was almost impossible as the rain was pouring.

The parade appeared to have been enjoyed by many folks, even though it was very cold and damp.

The number of viewers in attendance appeared to be about the same as if Sunday had been a day with sunshine and a temperature of 70 degrees.

The next big parades are scheduled on Saturday at noon when Diamondhead's Krewes of Land and Sea are scheduled.

The Krewe of Land begins at the Country Club and proceeds to the Yacht Club, while the Krewe of Sea begins at the Jourdan River.

Royalty of both Krewes will meet at Diamondhead's Yacht Club later in the afternoon.

St. Paul's Carnival Association's parade is scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday in Pass Christian.

On Mardi Gras Day, the Krewe of Triton is scheduled to roll from Our Shopping Center in Waveland to Dunbar Avenue in Bay St. Louis.

There are also several small school and area kids' parades scheduled during the next few days.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

If it concerns you, it concerns us

Driving conditions on Highway 603 must be improved

Sea Coast Echo

Dear Editor:

I have just returned home from a funeral. A funeral for a young man only 18 years old. To his family and friends his name was Jeffrey. To the bureaucrats in Jackson, Jeffrey is a number. Just a number, that's all.

Well, if the aforementioned bureaucrats want to talk numbers, then let's talk numbers. Let's talk three numbers, 5-0-3, as in Highway Highway 603, Hancock County, Miss. undoubtedly the most dangerous stretch of two-lane highway in the entire state. It is a fact that every resident of Hancock County, including our legislators, are well aware of.

While we are on the subject of numbers, let's discuss some big numbers, as in $1.5 billion. That's how much money our legislators want to spend on highway construction in our state. But wait! Here's another big number, 1,878. That figure represents the number of miles of highway that the $1.5 billion is to be spent on.

Now, I have no trouble dealing with that. But I do have trouble dealing with the fact that of that $1.5 billion not one cent of it is earmarked to pave one inch of highway in Hancock County. Truly unbelievable.

I am not a highway engineer and do not profess to be one, nor am I a politician who can rationalize a political tradeoff. I am just someone, one among many, who realizes that something must be done to improve the driving conditions on Highway 603.

Now, back to Jeffrey, a young man who recently lost his life on Hwy. 603. To his family and friends Jeffrey will never be a number, and there is no dollar sign in front of his name.

Danny Krankey

Former Governor Coleman wants people to vote on Constitutional Convention

Dear Editor:

Section Five of the Mississippi Constitution of 1890 provides that all political power is vested in, and derived from, the people. It further states that all government originates with the people and is founded upon their will only.

All members of the Mississippi Legislature and other public officials are sworn to uphold the Constitution.

That being true, I find it extremely hard to understand why, up to this time, a majority of the members of the Mississippi House of Representatives have refused to allow the people of Mississippi the right to vote in the November elections on the question of whether or not a Constitutional Convention should be called in this state.

I further find it very difficult to understand the argument stated by some members of the House of Representatives that delegates to such a convention, duly elected by the people, could not be trusted to serve the public interest and might fall victims to special interests.

It is a remarkable contradiction to say that it is perfectly alright for the people to be trusted to elect members of the Legislature, who may fall victims to special interests, but they must not be allowed to do so as to delegates to a State Constitutional Convention, especially when it is further provided that the work of that convention would be submitted to the people for their approval or disapproval.

To quote the words of Abraham Lincoln, with charity for all and malice toward none, this is a most distressing example of legislative unwillingness to trust the very people who sent them to the legislature in the first place.

I would hope that upon mature reflection and upon consideration of the real issues in this matter, not the phony ones, a sufficient number of the members of the House of Representatives would join with the members of the Senate and let the people decide this issue.

Once the people have decided, however they do decide, the matter would be put at rest and the rights of the people as guaranteed by the Mississippi Constitution would have been fully preserved.

Sincerely yours,
J.P. Coleman

Eyes on Mississippi

By Bill Minor

Rarely, if ever in Mississippi has public support, largely coming from the state's top business leaders, been mobilized in behalf of a tax bill as the effort put behind the $104 million income tax measure facing a House showdown this week.

It's not that Mississippi business leaders like to have their taxes increased. But they see the income tax hike as the only alternative to stop the bleeding of badly wounded state services, principally higher education, because of budget cuts last year and several previous years.

Spearheaded by the Council for Support of Public Higher Education which leading businessmen formed last year, some 75,000 letters were sent out over the week-end to alumni of the state's universities to contact their representatives to support House Bill 1211 that would raise an estimated $104 million in revenue. Television and newspaper ads by the group have also been running the past several weeks.

In reality, the income tax measure would only restore part of the $125 to $135 million in income tax revenues the state is losing in current dollars under income tax cuts voted by the Legislature in 1973 and 1979.

Many education leaders had warned against the major cuts in the income tax voted by lawmakers in 1979—an election year—that have produced a devastating effect on the state treasury.

The 1979 measure lowered the income tax in stages over a three-year period, for a total estimated reduction of $80 million. If, however, has impacted the state treasury far more than expected.

It became apparent to William Winter, after he became governor in 1980 that the cut would impact the state treasury far worse than anticipated, and he tried to get lawmakers to halt the last two stages of reductions. Winter encountered deaf ears from some of the House leaders who are still around.

To pass a major tax measure this year—an election year—will take a lot of courage from legislators who are quite aware that state tax increases are never popular in Mississippi. Perhaps a tax hike is less popular now because of the national anti-tax climate created by President Reagan.

However, a poll run by the Council for Support of Higher Education showed 68.6 percent of those polled favored a tax hike in rather than further funding reductions for higher education. The poll also indicated that an income tax increase was favored over higher sales tax as the source for additional revenue.

A subcommittee headed by Rep. Fred Dobbs of Lakeville had approved the income tax measure last week, and it was slated for a key test vote before the full House Ways and Means committee on Tuesday of this week. It then has to win floor approval by Thursday or all hopes of enhancing the state general fund at the 1987 session will be dead.

The burden to initiate a tax bill this session had been put on the House because Senate fiscal leaders refused to stick their necks out again after having passed a similar income tax bill in 1984 and having it junked by the House. If it passes the House, its approval in the Senate is almost assured.

Anti-tax sentiment in the House of the past two sessions had begun to shift last fall when many lawmakers in the lower branch became convinced more money had to be found for the higher education system and a number of key programs.

Amazingly, however, it will take a revolt by members of the House Ways and Means committee against their chairman, Rep. H.L. Sonny Merideth of Greenville, in order to get the tax hike out of committee.

Dobbs, an accomplished debater who has enjoyed looking home with the veteran Merideth in the past, was rather confident the income tax bill would get out of committee and has a "better than even" chance of passing.

Attorney General warns about out of state asphalt contractors

Attorney General Ed Pittman warned today that out of state asphalt contractors, unlicensed to do business in the state of Mississippi, have been taking advantage of elderly homeowners in central Mississippi.

Door-to-door contractors have quoted one price, then charged many times that amount, and have left jobs unfinished after being paid, according to JoAnne McLeod, head of the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office.

"They come to the door, tell the homeowner that paving the driveway will cost one or two dollars per foot, then step off the number of feet down the driveway," McLeod said. "When the bill is presented the one dollar is charged for each square foot rather than each linear foot. One lady who thought her bill would be $200 was given a bill for $800. She paid it."

McLeod said the contractors put down one thin layer of asphalt, and paid for the entire job, and never return to put down a promised sealer coat. "The asphalt usually won't last more than a few weeks," she warned.

Complaints have been received in the Consumer Protection Division from Montgomery County, Leflore County and Neshoba County. The sheriffs of those counties are aware of the situation and are working with the Attorney General's office to keep the group from operating in their counties, McLeod said.

The contractors are described as seven to nine white males, their vehicles include a silver and blue pickup, a light blue pickup with a Texas license plate, a dark green or black truck, a dump truck and a flatbed truck pulling a trailer.

McLeod said it was not certain that all of the complaints concerned a single group, but said none of the individuals or companies named in the complaints were licensed contractors in Mississippi.

IN CONGRESS

By Cong. Trent Lott

KEEPING THE COMMITMENT TO OUR MILITARY RETIREES

I am concerned about something I see happening in Mississippi, as well as in other states, with our military retirees. More and more often, I am hearing complaints from military retirees that they are having difficulty getting medical or dental care at our military bases.

One veteran who lost an eye in the Korean conflict described how he could not get medical treatment for high blood pressure at a military base hospital. He ended up going to a private physician who treated him and referred him to a private hospital. The veteran's wife, who is suffering from diabetes and asthma, has been unable to get medical care for over a year.

Proper medical care is a real commitment the United States makes to those men and women who choose to serve their country in the armed services.

I am contacting the base commanders at Mississippi's military installations and will soon meet with officials at the Pentagon in Washington to find out exactly what is happening here. We must ensure that our military hospitals and medical facilities have the resources they need to adequately serve our military retirees.

Initially, I have the impression that the problem is not just a question of not having the facilities or the personnel. I am concerned that there has been a directive from Washington to begin to cut back on the usage by military retirees of our base hospitals.

This is certainly not the intent of the Congress which has very carefully provided compensation for the sacrifices made by our servicemen who chose to stand on the front lines to protect our freedom and security.

The House Veterans Affairs and the Armed Services committees for the last several years have worked hard to make certain that our military hospitals provide the best service possible for military retirees and will continue to do so with my full support.

If that medical care—our commitment to our veterans—is not being provided to those for whom it was promised, I intend to find out why and take the needed steps to correct the situation.

Matters of Health

LOW BACK PAIN

Staying active is good for you. But sometimes it can lead to pain.

Low back pain is a condition so universal that virtually everybody will suffer with it at one time or another. Occasionally low back pain results from specific diseases which require special treatment. Most often, it is the result of simple strains, pulls, and over-stretched ligaments and muscles surrounding the lumbar spine which are caused by improper use of the back.

The majority of such back pain will be experienced as dull, aching, nagging discomfort. Sometimes a more acute and incapacitating pain develops, usually after a specific strain or other precipitating injury.

Many patients with such acute, incapacitating back pain are surprised when they are told that the most important form of treatment in this situation is complete bed rest.

One must remember that the spine is a column made of blocks of bones connected together by small joints, and that acute mechanical back pain is simply a severely sprained joint.

It causes pain in the same way that a severe sprain of the ankle causes pain. With a sprained ankle; however, you can limp and continue to get around, taking weight off the injured joint or putting most of your weight on the other leg. Of course, you have only one spine, and when you severely sprain your back, the only way to take the weight and strain of activities away from these joints is to lie down. For this reason, bed rest is the rational treatment and the quickest way to recovery.

Under these circumstances, other suggestions that may help include using a firm mattress or bed board, using a heating pad or hot water bottle, and massaging the sore area. But most importantly, find a comfortable position in bed (for example, on your back with a pillow under your knees keeping them slightly bent), and stay in bed.

Doctors may prescribe muscle relaxants, anti-inflammatory medications, or pain medications to relieve some of the symptoms, while the strain resolves itself.

Once the acute pain and spasm have resolved, it is equally important to pay attention to basic principles of back care to minimize the chance for a recurrence of back strain.

There are four cardinal rules of preventing low back pain. Always bend your knees whenever you bend at the waist, and use the muscles of your legs, not your back, when lifting. Always move objects to be lifted as close to you as possible. Face what you lift—instead of twisting your body from the trunk, pivot on the heel of one foot and the toes of the other, while lifting. Never go into a bending and twisting position at the same time.

The following hints should help you avoid aggravating your back condition. Sleep on your side or back, rather than on your stomach.

Avoid excess weight—your back will have less to carry around. A little exercise every day is better than a whole lot on weekends.

Avoid sudden movements. Avoid stretching or reaching (as in closets or to reach shelves).

Sit in a straight chair with a firm back.

Posture is important. Enter a car by sitting first, swinging your head and legs afterwards, then reversing that process to get out.

A shower (standing) is preferable to a tub bath (sitting). Sit so that your knees are higher than your hips.

In a car, push the front seat forward to achieve this.

At home, a small stool under your feet may be necessary.

Avoid flabby abdominal muscles by weight control and abdominal strengthening exercises, which also help improve posture.

Your doctor will probably prescribe exercises to strengthen the abdominal muscles, improve your posture and increase the flexibility of your back. These three physical conditioning approaches, combined with proper use of the back, will minimize the possibility for recurrence of a severe lower back strain.

ed last month as an alternative to the more ambitious plan that would require increasing taxes.

The governor left open the chance of vetoing a highway plan that raises taxes without reorganizing the State Highway Commission.

Allain has advocated abolishing the three-man elected State Highway Commission in favor of an appointed board.

Supporters of a drive for a new state constitution have yet to throw in the towel on their cause. Allain said he still hopes the House Constitution Committee will bring a Senate-passed plan for a November statewide referendum on calling a convention before the House for a vote.

A plan by convention-opponent Rep. Charlie Capps, House Constitution Committee chairman, for a legislative panel to draft a new constitution met a cool reception from Allain.

The workload at the Capitol should increase this week due to the Thursday deadline to consider money bills on the floor.

After last week's flurry to meet a key deadline, the Legislature slowed down in this week of little activity.

Meantime, Merideth appeared to be trying to drag a red herring across the path of the income tax bill by rallying a last-minute move to also get a bill raising the state sales tax rate from 6 to 7 percent before the committee at the same time.

"I'll be delighted to have Sonny be on the side of raising the sales tax," the 43-year-old Dobbins declared, "and we will see which one the committee prefers."

Dobbins said that while the income tax bill produced by his subcommittee restores a greater part of the revenue from the 1979 cut, it does it by altering the brackets and the rates rather than rolling back the exemptions to the pre-1979 level, "so as not to put back any lower income families on the tax rolls."

Now, a family of four has to have an adjusted gross income of $16,000 or over in order to pay any income taxes.

Fair association presents plaques to Doug Parker and Ed Bruen

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Appreciation plaques were presented to Doug Parker and Ed Bruen, Monday at the Hancock County Fair Association meeting.

The plaques were given to the volunteers for their help in getting ready for the fair in November.

Also at the meeting, President Walter Turcotte told the group a date had not been scheduled for the 1987 Hancock County Livestock Show and Fair but he was sure it would be set either the last weekend in October or the first weekend in November.

Turcotte said he would contact Deltus Mitchell of the Mitchell Brothers Carnival and confirm a date before the April meeting.

Discussion was tabled on a motion to allow area youth to sell signature advertisement for the fair catalogue. Included in the discussion was a comparison of adding extra pages to the book compared to the value of the additional advertisements.

Turcotte said some guidelines must be established before allowing the youth to sell the ads.

A report was also heard at the meeting on plans to upgrade the exhibit hall at the fairgrounds.

Ethel Breaux reported Supervisor James Traverca planned to seek authorization for bids on climate control devices, paneling and a dropped ceiling.

Breaux stated she would have an update on the matter for the March meeting.

The association's next meeting will be March 23 at 6:30 p.m.

RATE REDUCTIONS MAKE LONG DISTANCE A BETTER BARGAIN

One of the better bargains in telephone service today is long distance. Rates for long distance calls have fallen considerably since 1984.

HOW MUCH HAVE RATES GONE DOWN?

Calls you dial yourself, within your Calling Zone and carried over South Central Bell lines, have dropped in the range of 5 percent to 26 percent, depending on the distance the call travels.

More than one-half of the calls carried over South Central Bell lines travel less than 40 miles, and rates for these calls have dropped the most. For instance, a three-minute one-plus dialed call made between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays from Jackson to Canton, a distance of 24 miles, dropped from $1.08 to $.87, or 19 percent.

One-plus calls made during discount periods—evenings, nights and weekends—cost even less. The same three-minute one-plus dialed call from Jackson to Canton costs only $.35 when made during the night or weekend 60 percent discount periods.

Check the Customer Guide at the front of your telephone directory for the discount rates and periods.

WHAT ABOUT RATES OUTSIDE SOUTH CENTRAL BELL CALLING ZONES?

According to the Federal Communications Commission, charges for calls between Calling Zones, and between states have fallen an average of 30 percent since 1984.

WHO HANDLES CALLS OUTSIDE SOUTH CENTRAL BELL CALLING ZONES?

Many telephone customers today can choose a long distance company to handle calls to places outside their South Central Bell Calling Zone. If you haven't already chosen, you may soon be asked to do so.

We'll send you an information packet—with brief descriptions of the long distance companies serving your area, a ballot and a return envelope—when you can choose.

It's important that you select the company of your choice and return the ballot in the envelope we've provided. If you do not make a choice, the Federal Communications Commission requires us to randomly choose a long distance company for you.

Friendship Oak Chapter

Delegates from the Friendship Oak Chapter National Society Daughters of the American Revolution returned to the Gulf Coast on Sunday after attending the eighty-first State Conference of the Mississippi State Society held in Jackson Feb. 19-21.

They reported a high attendance score of 80 chapters throughout the state represented out of a possible 83. Nor did they return empty handed.

Mrs. James R. Thomas of Long Beach, who serves as her chapter's regent, said, "For a second time our Friendship Oak Chapter has won the American History Award. We also met all the requirements for the Gold Honor Roll and received first place award for our scrap book. We also received first place for largest membership increase in small chapters with fewer than fifty members."

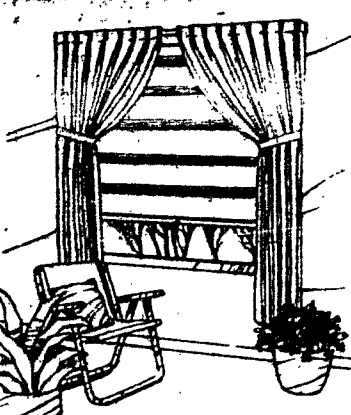

Assisting Mrs. Thomas with registration at the convention center were Mrs. Philip R. Davenport of Bay St. Louis, State Chairman of Membership Commission, and Mrs. Sidney Ruskin of Pass Christian. "There was an overwhelming demand for tickets to hear the address given by Mrs. Phyllis Schaffly, Chairman of the National Defense Committee - we just were not able to supply the demand," Mrs. Davenport explained.

Mrs. Dale Kelly Love, State Regent and resident of Hattiesburg together with Mrs. M. Tate Thigpen of Piquette, received outstanding applause and approval for plans and progress being made toward restoration of the Rosalie Gardens in Natchez.

The project requires the planting of thousands of flowers and shrubs. The objective, explained by Mrs. Thigpen, is to restore the grounds of the shrine to as near their original appearance as when in the 1820's Peter Little and his child bride, Eliza, planned with their gardeners to set out parterres of roses, boxwood and azaleas, fringing circular walks that followed the shape of the Natchez Bluff.

Richard C. Griffin, a graduate of Mississippi State University was selected by the group as landscape architect. Griffin told the group that many of the plants for the restoration project would have to be purchased through nurseries to insure uniformity of design, however, dona-

Marine training available

The State of Louisiana is accepting applications for a marine training program. The training will be conducted by the Louisiana Marine & Petroleum Institute in Houma, La.

This Marine Industry Indocination Program is 13 weeks in length. After it's completion, the trainee is referred to marine companies for employment and on-the-job training.

The recent increase in oil prices has resulted in speculation of future increased drilling activity. The demand for boat crews is directly related to offshore drilling activity.

Trained personnel have an advantage when deckhand positions become available. LAMPI trainees have been able to find employment during on-the-job training. However, due to the depressed state of present activity no assurance can be given for employment once the basic training has been completed.

Advanced training leading to a license as a deck or engineering specialist is also available. Each of these advanced programs total two years and includes OJT while employed aboard vessels of various companies.

The 1365 hours of training at LAMPI and approximately one year of OJT is divided into phases with the trainee alternating between the school and OJT.

While on OJT the trainee earns the standard wage for the position he holds and completes assigned job tasks for his on-the-job training. These programs are Coast Guard approved which results in shortening the time required to obtain a license as a Mate or Engineer.

Applicants must be 16 years of age. A High School Diploma is not required but the training program and Coast Guard licensing requirements and procedures make basic mathematics and reading ability necessary.

The Institute is within Louisiana's Vocational-Technical School System and follows a strict policy of non-discrimination for race, creed, sex, national origin or qualified handicaps.

Persons desiring further information, should write to Louisiana Marine & Petroleum Institute; P.O. Box 5033; Houma, LA, 70361 and request an Application for Admission.

Pancakes, the Crepes of French cuisine, on Mardi Gras - Shrove Tuesday, day before Lent - have been a part of my life ever since I can remember - in fact, our French nurse during my childhood days always insisted upon toasting a crepe or so atop the rosewood armoire in my parents' bedroom each Mardi Gras - to ensure luck during the year! (An old French custom, she told us.)

I don't remember what happened to the crepes, but the cook or someone else must have rescued them from the top of that armoire, for we kept on living in the house!

And, when the marvelous madness of Mardi Gras is over, and many of us turn to Lenten ways, in preparation for Easter, crepes are still an addition to the menu, aren't they? For crepes - thin pancakes - can be as plain or fancy as you please, and quite adaptable to any occasion.

If you think of pancakes as just a breakfast item, stop and think again; they're delightful all around the clock, especially when filled or topped with tasty combinations.

Every nation, every cuisine has its own version, from the thinner-than-thin delicate crepes of French cuisine to the hearty ever so heavy "flapjack."

The crepe has been called the "Prince of Pancakes" - but there are many other contenders for the crown - such as our own country's Johnny Cakes or Sourdough Pancakes or Corn Cakes, which sustained the early settlers through many desperate days.

And, let's not forget the latkes of Jewish cuisine, or the potato or apple pancakes of Germany, or the Chinese egg roll, or the Russian Blini, or the chapati of India, or Old Mexico's tortillas and enchiladas (that's the South of the Border answer to our filled and rolled crepes and pancakes) - and so on and so on I can't remember them all!

And, call them what you will - crepes, pancakes or whatever - they're the answer to a budget's prayer. So as a young wife in post-Depression days, I relied on pancakes for my "Days-Before-Payday-Meals" with butter and cane syrup for breakfast, and perhaps again that evening or the next, rolled around a bit of meat or seafood in sauce or whatever was on hand.

Chopped or sliced ham or shrimp or chicken are excellent fillings, not only for budget-watching times, but also for more elegant dinners or suppers, depending upon the embellishments.

Crepes begin with quite simple ingredients, and, like other Cinderellas of the skillet, turn into quite elegant creations - and, incidentally, or not so incidentally, you don't have to have an extra special crepe pan for making crepes, just one with sloping sides if possible - where there's a will there's a way to make a good crepe.

And, also, when you're making crepes, make quite a lot of them, since they keep well. After they cool, stack them, between waxed paper, and sandwich the stack between paper plates or foil, then wrap the package in foil, or slip it into a freezer bag. Crepes may be stored very well in the refrigerator for two or three days and in the freezer for three or four months.

So, here's your basic crepe recipe - from there on out, you're on your own - let me know what variations you devise, won't you? - Here's:

CREPES

(or pancakes or flapjacks or whatever)

1 1/2 cups all purpose flour
Dash (1/4 tsp.) salt
2 cups milk
3 eggs
2 Tbsp. butter or margarine, melted

Vegetable oil
It's easier than easy - just combine the flour, salt and milk, and stir it all together rather well. Then add the eggs and the butter, and beat until smooth - and at this point, I like to stash the batter in the refrigerator for at least a couple of hours, as this makes the flour bits puff or swell somewhat, and also softens somewhat, and that ensures that the crepes will be lighter in texture.

Now, you're ready - just brush your pan with oil, get it hot, but, for Heaven and the crepe's sake, don't let it smoke. Pour two or three tablespoons of the batter into the pan, and quickly, quickly, tilt the pan to and fro so that the batter films the pan, and cook barely a minute, just to lighter than light brown shade.

Flip the crepe when it just about shakes loose from the pan, and cook just about half a minute on the other side. Devour at once, with butter and syrup - or, if you're going more fancy, stack aside, and fill or top as you wish.

Best pancakes ever!

Adult services workshop set March 5-6

A University of Southern Mississippi workshop scheduled here March 5-6 will allow college administrators to focus on the special programs and services affecting adult students.

The workshop, which will take place at USM's Gulfport Conference Center, is co-sponsored by the university's Division of Lifelong Learning and the Project LEARN/Gulf Coast Region.

The W.K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, Mich., awarded USM a $3,000 grant last fall to coordinate Project LEARN in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana for an 18-month period. Dr. Eugene Tinson, dean of lifelong learning at USM, was named regional director of the Project LEARN effort.

Project LEARN is a $15 million national effort by the Kellogg Foundation to expand and improve educational opportunities and services for adult learners and to aid educational institutions in making the changes necessary to meet the needs of adult learners. Non-traditional students comprise the fastest-growing segment of the college population today.

Workshop topics will include planning credit programs, accreditation standards, marketing, career and academic advising, prior learning assessment, support services and non-credit programs for adults.

The program is aimed primarily at college and university vice presidents for academic affairs, admissions officers, academic deans, student personnel administrators, deans or directors of continuing education, career and academic counselors, public relations directors, department chairs and other faculty who are interested in educating adult students.

Workshop speakers will include Harriet Cabell, associate dean of New College at the University of Alabama; Barbara S. Smith, Project LEARN coordinator, University of Southern Mississippi, Division of Lifelong Learning, Southern Station Box 5055, Hattiesburg, Miss. 39406-5055; or call (601) 266-5055.

Southern Alabama; Harrylyn G. Salis, assistant dean for adult learning and director of the Adult Degree Program at Millsaps College; Martha Upsah, director of continuing education at Northeastern Louisiana University; and E. Jean Walker, associate executive director of the Commission on Colleges, Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

The workshop fee is $185, or $165 per participant for two or more participants from the same institution. The pre-registration deadline is Feb. 27.

The fee includes lodging for the night of March 5 at the Gulfport Conference Center—plus a reception, breakfast, lunch, coffee breaks and instructional materials. Spouses are cordially invited and can be lodged at the center for a fee of $22.

For additional information, contact Barbara S. Smith, Project LEARN coordinator, University of Southern Mississippi, Division of Lifelong Learning, Southern Station Box 5055, Hattiesburg, Miss. 39406-5055; or call (601) 266-5055.

Trooper of the Year to be named

The statewide Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol "Trooper of the Year" will be announced Friday evening, Feb. 27 in Jackson.

The naming of one of 11 officers selected by their constituents as a district- or bureau-level trooper of the year, climaxes a month of banquets held in their honor by the Mississippi District Exchange Clubs.

Exchange Clubs in Jackson, Grenada, Oxford, Tupelo, Columbus, Meridian, Hattiesburg, Gulfport, and McComb began their annual salute to law enforcement and the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol on Feb. 2.

"This program is one of the finest ways the officers of the Highway Patrol have of being recognized on an individual basis. They are nominated by their fellow officers as the person who best represents them," James J. Roberts Jr., commissioner of public safety, said.

"Since 1952, the Mississippi District Exchange Clubs have demonstrated their support and appreciation of law enforcement by sponsoring the Highway Patrol trooper of the year program throughout the state.

"Exchange club members should be commended for the positive attention they bring to the Highway Patrol and the profession of law enforcement," he said.

Troopers are selected from each of the nine Highway Patrol districts, the driver services, and criminal investigation bureaus.

To be eligible for consideration, officers must recognize the badge of office as a public trust that requires adherence to the highest principles and ethics of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol.

Their conduct and performance of duty must be characterized by fairness, justice, objectivity, and evenhanded treatment of all persons. He or she must demonstrate loyalty and allegiance to the department and to fellow officers, and must exhibit excellence in the performance of sworn duty and ensuring the public safety. They must maintain a private life that is exemplary to fellow officers, the community, and the public.

The state-wide banquet, hosted by the North Jackson Exchange Club, will be held at 6:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn North in Jackson.

Officers, their age, hometown, and district or bureau represented include:

Trooper Marvin E. Curtis Jr., 32, Vicksburg, Jackson District;

Bay St. Louis, second place; Julie Grimes, first place; and Keith O'Banion, third place.

Jennifer Cotie places second in state oratorical finals

Jennifer Cotie, a 17-year-old senior at Bay High School, is the winner of the second place award of $250 at state finals of the 50th annual American Legion National Oratorical Contest. The Feb. 21 event was conducted in the War Memorial Building in Jackson.

Miss Cotie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cotie of Waveland and represented Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray Post 77 of The American Legion in Waveland where she won the post competition.

She was the winner of the ninth district contest held in Gulfport and was also named the southern area representative for the state finals.

The southern area covers approximately the southern one-third of the state and includes all American Legion posts within that area.

After graduation from Bay High, Miss Cotie plans to attend the University of Mississippi where she will study political science and speech in preparation for law school.

All participants in the contest are required to speak on some phase of the United States Constitution and must keep the same subject as long as they remain in the competition. Cotie selected for her subject "The Constitution - A Document Through Time." Her coach throughout the competition was Bay High School English teacher Carrie Smith.

Miss Cotie's monetary awards for all levels of competition totaled $450.

The winner of the first place prize of $500 was Julie Grimes, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Grimes of Fulton. Julie, who is 17 and a junior at Itawamba High School, was in the competition for the third time as the representative of Post 51 in Fulton. Her subject was, "The American Dream."

The $200 third place prize went to Keith O'Banion, 18-year-old son of ORATORICAL CONTEST—Jennifer Cotie of Bay St. Louis is congratulated by Haskel Smith, state commander of the American Legion, for her second place win at the state level of the American Legion National Oratorical Contest.

Mrs. Vera O'Banion of Forrest. Keith is a senior at Forrest High School and represented Post 9 of Forrest. The title of his prepared oration was, "The American Citizen."

As the state champion, Julie Grimes will represent Mississippi at the regional finals in Baton Rouge, La. on April 6 and, if successful there, will advance to the sectional finals in Little Rock, Ark. April 8. The winner at that level will compete against other sectional winners at Lee's Summit, Mo. on April 10 for the national championship.

Contestants who win their state finals contest and represent their states at the national contest will receive no less than $1,000 in scholarship funds. A total of $109,000 in college scholarships will be divided among the contestants.

The four national finalists receive $16,000, $14,000, $10,000 and $8,000 respectively. Over $1 million in scholarships have been awarded at the national level by The American Legion to contestants in the National High School Oratorical Contest.

NSTL personnel conduct educational tour

Personnel from NASA's National Space Technology Laboratories have completed an educational tour of three minority colleges and universities in Mississippi.

The tour, conducted Feb. 1-13, was the second time in two years that NSTL has conducted the program at Jackson State University, Alcorn State University and Tougaloo College.

Presenting the lectures and demonstrations were Dr. Jerry Brown, chief of NSTL's educational programs office; Jim McMurtry, aerospace education specialist; and Alan Auter, information coordinator.

Topics of their presentations included Space Shuttle main engine testing, planetary exploration, life support systems, deep space probes, aerodynamics and future NASA programs.

The purpose of the tour was to familiarize students and faculty members with NASA and NSTL activities and with technology spinoffs from space agency research.

"The minority college tour is an extension of the ongoing education program which we carry out on site and in the communities throughout the state of Mississippi," said Mack Herring, NSTL public affairs officer. "Our goal is to reach students and teachers alike, to provide information on current activities and to talk about future career opportunities."

Brown said the tour was beneficial in establishing a closer working relationship between NSTL's educational programs office and the state's colleges and universities.

Said Brown, "Campus tours allow us to present up-to-date information to a large audience of students and instructors. We feel that this interchange strengthens our educational exchange at the university level."

SBA designated Hancock eligible for special rain related loans

Jack Spradling, U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) District Director, announced that small non-farm/agri-related businesses in Copiah, Hancock, Harrison, Lincoln, Neshoba, Pearl River, Smith and Waltham Counties, Mississippi, have been designated eligible to apply for SBA Economic Injury Loans (EIDLs).

According to Spradling, "This designation was made following the Secretary of Agriculture's determination that farmers may apply to FmHA for emergency loans due to damages and losses caused by excessive rainfall which occurred Oct. 1 through Dec. 21, 1986." (Due to the passage of the Consolidated Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 - P.L. 99-272, Agricultural Enterprises, as defined in Section 18 (b) (1) of the Small Business Act, are not eligible for disaster loan assistance from the Small Business Administration.)

EIDLs are strictly to provide funds to permit those non-farm/agri-related businesses which were impacted by this incident to meet current obligations and to pay ordinary and necessary operating expenses during the period affected by this disaster.

Refinancing of long-term debts or providing capital which was needed prior to the disaster is not permitted. EIDL loans are direct from SBA and cannot exceed $500,000. The interest rate is four (4) percent. Repayment terms are determined on a case-by-case basis with a maximum maturity of thirty years.

Spradling cautioned, "No EIDL assistance can be extended to a business which does not meet SBA's definition of a small non-farm/agri-related business or is determined by SBA to be able to obtain credit from non-federal sources. The available resources of the business and its principals must be used to the fullest extent possible without causing undue hardship."

Applications must be filed by the close of business on Sept. 29, 1987.

Assistance and forms are available from any SBA office or by writing or calling the SBA Disaster

Assistance Division, Area 2, 120 Ralph McGill Boulevard, 14th floor, Atlanta, Georgia 30308. The toll free telephone number is 1-800-334-0309. Calls will be taken between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time) on weekdays. Applications must be postmarked no later than Sept. 29, 1987.

PRC baseball starters dominated by sophomores

That's good news for Coach Ned Eades in more ways than one.

The Wildcats' schedule was cut by 22 games this year and pre-season games have been non-existent. That means Eades will have to count on experience early in the year.

As soon as the 'Cats return from their South Division battle with East Central they'll have to get ready for the home-opener against rival Gulf Coast on Wednesday at 1 p.m.

Eades, who has led his 'Cats to 106 victories and just 87 losses in five years, says his team has been looking good in practice, despite all the rain during the past few days.

"Normally we have 10 or so games under our belts by the time division play begins," Eades said. "This year is different and I'm not really sure how it will affect us. I do know everyone else on our schedule has been playing games."

Sophomores behind the plate for the Wildcats will be Fred Veronezi from Valatie, New York and Lee Mock from York, Alabama. Veronezi played in 34 ballgames last year and batted .320.

Randy Habetz of Lafayette, LA will be at third base while sophomores Todd Dugas, Lafayette; Sam Pace, Hattiesburg and John Mathis, Shelbyville, KY will be in the outfield.

Habetz played in 44 games last season and batted .354. Dugas was in 38 games and hit .333.

At first base will be Grant Pate of Livingston, AL and Darrin Harris of Poplarville. Brian Webb of Shelbyville, KY will start at second base, as well as Leo Raymond of Slidell.

New players Eades expects to really help this season are outfielders J.D. Stillwell of Covington and Cedric Sheridan of Hammond, LA.

At second and third base will also be freshman David Pitalo of Bay St. Louis who played for USM last year. Freshman playing shortstop are Tommy Roberson of Frankfort, Kentucky and James Rogers of Covington, Louisiana.

Richard White, a transfer from Enterprise Junior College in Alabama will also see action at first base.

Sophomore pitchers for the Wildcats include Paul Dugle of Shelbyville, Kentucky; David Cowart of Poplarville and Mike Smeltzer of Hattiesburg.

Cowart won five, lost one and had five saves last season. Dugle posted a 5-6 record and Smeltzer was 3-5.

Freshman pitchers include Chris Dechols of Lafayette; L.C. Melancon of Crowley; Chris Bates of Poplarville; Joel Stevens of North Forrest and Brian Fontenot of Opelousas.

Last year the Wildcats put together a 35-22-1 conference mark and were 33-23 overall.

Something different this season is the fact that the Wildcats will take off for the spring holidays. According to Eades, no games have been scheduled for the seven day break.

"I hope our players will stay in shape during this time or we'll have to start all over," Eades said. In the past, the Wildcats have played senior colleges from the north during spring break to stay tuned up for conference play.

In 1982 the Wildcats, under Eades, put together a 28-11 mark. In 1983 it was 32-12, in '84 it was 35-19, in '85 the 'Cats posted a 35-22-1 ledger.

Last year every sophomore on the team signed scholarships to play for senior colleges. The six '86 sophomores bring the 'Cats total to 27 who have signed to play senior college ball during the past five years.

PRC's players signing with senior colleges include Tony Banta, Livingston State; Britt Baxter, Spring Hill; Monty Fontenot, Belhaven; Everett Reagan, Northeastern University; and Jason Wesley of Mississippi College.

Lady Wildcats fall to division leaders

The Pearl River College Lady Wildcats scared the daylight out of host Southwest Lady Bears here Monday night before falling to the division's number one team 75-70.

Southwest jumped to a 12-2 lead early in the contest, but the PRC girls came back to take a 36-35 halftime advantage.

Pearl River entered the contest ranked number eight in the division with a 0-14 mark. After putting together a 5-8 ledger at Christmas the Lady 'Cats were unable to win a single game here in the '87 session.

On many occasions the games were close, with the PRC girls leading at halftime only to fall behind in the last minutes of the contest.

Overall the Lady Wildcats basketball season ended at 5-19.

Gayle Hill led the Lady 'Cats with 25 points while Kim Ray tossed in 21. Norma Pendarvis scored 10 and Chris Hale 8.

PRC eliminated in tourney play by Co-Lin 82-75

The Pearl River Wildcats could muster only four points during the first seven minutes of their game against Co-Lin in the South Division Tournament that set the tempo for the 'Cats 82-75 second round setback.

By the time the Wildcats made their second basket of the night the Wolves had built a 20-4 advantage and it was an uphill battle for the remaining 33 minutes.

The loss dropped the Wildcats out of the South Division Tournament and ended Peter Georgian's first season at 17-11.

By halftime the Wolves led by a 43-27 count. The second half was a different story at the 'Cats, led by Adrain McCray, Wes Dedeaux and Jerry Ellis, made a heroic comeback.

Six minutes into the final stanza, Co-Lin led by a 22 point (61-39) margin. Five minutes later it was 63-51 as McCray hit two three pointers and things finally began to turn for the 'Cats.

Pearl River continued to chip away at the Co-Lin lead and by the 3:20 mark the Wildcats were down only by four, 73-69. Co-Lin was in the bonus situation at the 13:35 stage of the second half.

The Wildcats got even closer, 74-71, with two minutes left and 76-73 before going cold in the last 60 seconds.

"We didn't stop hustling," Coach Georgian said after the game. "I'm proud of the way we continued to fight back."

McCray led the 'Cats with 24 points while Dedeaux chipped in 14 and Ellis 13.

PRC was charged with seven 'walking' violations and inside man Steven Bankston fouled out early. Co-Lin scored 25 of its points from the free throw line.

The Wildcats ended their season with 17 wins and placed third in the tough South Division. Gulf Coast, the division's number one team, defeated Co-Lin for the South Crown.

Special "Junior College Day" scheduled Feb. 27 at Ole Miss

"Junior College Day," a one-day event designed exclusively for prospective transfer students from junior colleges and other institutions, has been scheduled for Friday, Feb. 27, at The University of Mississippi.

Beckett Howarth, director of admissions at Ole Miss, said that a variety of activities have been planned to benefit students interested in transferring to the University.

The day begins at 10:30 a.m. with registration in the Ole Miss Union lobby, and most of the day's activities will be centered around that building. University Chancellor Gerald Turner will greet visitors and offer general information at 11:45 a.m. in Room 404. A complimentary lunch will be served in the Union cafeteria at noon.

Beginning at 1 p.m., academic information sessions including transcript evaluations and meetings with academic deans and other University officials will be held in the Union lobby. Campus tours will be offered, and a campuswide academic open house will be held for students interested in a specific discipline.

From 1:30-4:45 p.m., a special "Student Life and Activity Fair" in the lobby will offer information on admission, financial aid, career choices and job placement. Also available will be information on various areas of student life - including religious organizations, intramural athletics, student media, fraternities and sororities, special interest groups, honoraries and more. Visitors are invited to attend the opening rounds of the third annual Ole Miss Scholars Bowl competition at 2:45 p.m. in the Union ballroom.

For prospective transfers interested in watching Saturday's final rounds, or in attending the Rebel baseball team's game with Christian Brothers College of Lady Rebel's basketball contest with Mississippi College, overnight accommodations are available with advance notice to the University's Office of Pre-Admissions, telephone (601) 232-7378 or toll-free in Mississippi 1-800-222-5102.

and Mrs. Charles Burton Sr. PRC Football Coach Mike Nelson said he was especially glad to offer football scholarships to these outstanding players. Nelson said PRC was only offering a few football scholarships this year and that HNC is the only school where this many players have been signed. (Staff photo by Brenda Heathcock)

HNC Hawks to play spring football game Friday

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
The Hancock North Central High School Hawks will complete spring football practice Friday with a matchup against the George County Rebels.

Head Coach Irvin Favre said 55 players will be dressed out for the game which will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Hawk stadium.

"We have been working real hard but it has not been the best weather for anything outside," he said.

Instead of spring football practice, it has been more like duck practice, Favre said.

The George County Rebels have a lot of returning football team members this year and are dressing out more than 70 players, he said.

"This should be a tough game for the Hawks because the Rebels are a very strong team and are expected to be one of the top teams in the state in the 1987 season," Favre stated.

"We have a lot of new faces and the game this week will be a test," he added.

It's tough rebuilding when you lose 13 senior players and especially when nine of them were starters, Favre said.

The 1986 Hawk team tallied an impressive record of eight wins and two losses. At one point in the season, the team was ranked No. 5 among prep high school football teams by the Associated Press.

"We lost 75 percent of the backfield including players with a lot of speed and a quarterback who should throw the long ball," he said.

"We lost a lot of experience with the defensive team at this point but they are untested and we do not know what they will do in a game," he added.

Favre believes the 1987 Hawk team's strength will be the defensive unit which has only two newcomers. "Basically we will just have to wait and see what is going to happen," Favre said.

Prior to the varsity game, there will be a B-team scrimmage. The scrimmage will begin at 6 p.m.

Favre said the scrimmage is planned to give each of the young and inexperienced team members a chance to play.

Following the game, the 50-Yardline Booster Club is hosting a dinner for the George County Rebels, all Hawk team members and parents.

The event is planned to generate more interest and members for the booster club.

That's good news for Coach Ned Eades in more ways than one.

The Wildcats' schedule was cut by 22 games this year and pre-season games have been non-existent. That means Eades will have to count on experience early in the year.

As soon as the 'Cats return from their South Division battle with East Central they'll have to get ready for the home-opener against rival Gulf Coast on Wednesday at 1 p.m.

Eades, who has led his 'Cats to 186 victories and just 87 losses in five years, says his team has been looking good in practice, despite all the rain during the past few days.

"Normally we have 10 or so games under our belts by the time division play begins," Eades said. "This year is different and I'm not really sure how it will affect us. I do know everyone else on our schedule has been playing games."

Sophomores behind the plate for the Wildcats will be Fred Veronezi from Valatie, New York and Lee Mock from York, Alabama. Veronezi played in 34 ballgames last year and batted .320.

Randy Habetz of Lafayette, LA will be at third base while sophomores Todd Dugas, Lafayette; Sam Pace, Hattiesburg and John Mathis, Shelbyville, KY will be in the outfield.

Habetz played in 44 games last season and batted .354. Dugas was in 38 games and hit .333.

At first base will be Grant Pate of Livingston, AL and Darrin Harris of Poplarville. Brian Webb of Shelbyville, KY will start at second base, as well as Leo Raymond of Sildell.

New players Eades expects to really help this season are outfielders J.D. Stilwell of Covington and Cedric Sheridan of Hammond, LA.

At second and third base will also be freshman David Pitalo of Bay St. Louis who played for USM last year. Freshman playing shortstop are Tommy Roberson of Frankfurt, Kentucky and James Rogers of Covington, Louisiana.

Richard White, a transfer from Enterprise Junior College in Alabama will also see action at first base.

Sophomore pitchers for the Wildcats include Paul Dugle of Shelbyville, Kentucky; David Cowart of Poplarville and Mike Smeltzer of Hattiesburg.

Cowart won five, lost one and had five saves last season. Dugle posted a 3-5 record and Smeltzer was 3-5.

Freshman pitchers include Chris Deschamps of Lafayette; L.G. Melancon of Crowley; Chris Bates of Poplarville; Joel Stevens of North Forrest and Brian Fontenot of Opelousas.

Last year the Wildcats put together a 10-10 conference mark and were 33-23 overall.

Something different this season is the fact that the Wildcats will take off for the spring holidays. According to Eades, no games have been scheduled for the seven day break.

"I hope our players will stay in shape during this time or we'll have to start all over," Eades said. In the past, the Wildcats have played senior colleges from the north during spring break to stay tuned up for conference play.

In 1982 the Wildcats, under Eades, put together a 28-11 mark. In 1983 it was 32-12, in '84 it was 35-19, in '85 the 'Cats posted a 35-22-1 ledger.

Last year every sophomore on the team signed scholarships to play for senior colleges. The six '86 sophomores bring the 'Cats total to 27 who have signed to play senior college ball during the past five years.

PRC's players signing with senior colleges include Tony Banta, Livingston State; Britt Baxter, Spring Hill; Monty Fontenot, Behaven; Everett Reagan, Northeastern University; and Jason Wesley of Mississippi College.

Lady Wildcats fall to division leaders

The Pearl River College Lady Wildcats scared the daylight out of host Southwest Lady Bears here Monday night before falling to the division's number one team 75-70.

Southwest jumped to a 12-2 lead early in the contest, but the PRC girls came back to take a 36-35 halftime advantage.

Pearl River entered the contest ranked number eight in the division with a 0-14 mark. After putting together a 5-8 ledger at Christmas the Lady 'Cats were unable to win a single game here in the '87 session.

On many occasions the games were close, with the PRC girls leading at halftime only to fall behind in the last minutes of the contest.

Overall the Lady Wildcats basketball season ended at 5-19.

Gayle Hill led the Lady 'Cats with 25 points while Kim Ray tossed in 21. Norma Pendarvis scored 10 and Chris Hale 8.

PRC eliminated in tourney play by Co-Lin 82-75

The Pearl River Wildcats could muster only four points during the first seven minutes of their game against Co-Lin in the South Division Tournament that set the tempo for the 'Cats 82-75 second round setback.

By the time the Wildcats made their second basket of the night the Wolves had built a 20-4 advantage and it was an uphill battle for the remaining 33 minutes.

The loss dropped the Wildcats out of the South Division Tournament and ended Peter Georgian's first season at 17-11.

By halftime the Wolves led by a 43-27 count. The second half was a different story at the 'Cats, led by Adrain McCray, Wes Dedeaux and Jerry Ellis, made a heroic comeback.

Six minutes into the final stanza, Co-Lin led by a 22 point (61-39) margin. Five minutes later it was 63-51 as McCray hit two three pointers and things finally began to turn for the 'Cats.

Pearl River continued to chip away at the Co-Lin lead and by the 3:20 mark the Wildcats were down only by four, 73-69. Co-Lin was in the bonus situation at the 13:35 stage of the second half.

The Wildcats got even closer, 74-71, with two minutes left and 76-73 before going cold in the last 60 seconds.

"We didn't stop hustling," Coach Georgian said after the game. "I'm proud of the way we continued to fight back."

McCray led the 'Cats with 24 points while Dedeaux chipped in 14 and Ellis 13.

PRC was charged with seven 'walking' violations and inside man Steven Bankston fouled out early. Co-Lin scored 25 of its points from the free throw line.

The Wildcats ended their season with 17 wins and placed third in the tough South Division. Gulf Coast, the division's number one team, defeated Co-Lin for the South Crown.

Special "Junior College Day" scheduled Feb. 27 at Ole Miss

"Junior College Day," a one-day event designed exclusively for prospective transfer students from junior colleges and other institutions, has been scheduled for Friday, Feb. 27, at The University of Mississippi.

Beckett Howorth, director of admissions at Ole Miss, said that a variety of activities have been planned to benefit students interested in transferring to the University.

The day begins at 10:30 a.m. with registration in the Ole Miss Union lobby, and most of the day's activities will be centered around that building. University Chancellor Gerald Turner will greet visitors and offer general information at 11:45 a.m. in Room 404. A complimentary lunch will be served in the Union cafeteria at noon.

Beginning at 1 p.m., academic information sessions including transcript evaluations and meetings with academic deans and other University officials will be held in the Union lobby. Campus tours will be offered, and a campuswide academic open house will be held for students interested in a specific discipline.

From 1:30-4:45 p.m., a special "Student Life and Activity Fair" in the lobby will offer information on admission, financial aid, career choices and job placement. Also available will be information on various areas of student life - including religious organizations, intramural athletics, student media, fraternities and sororities, special interest groups, honoraries and more. Visitors are invited to attend the opening rounds of the third annual Ole Miss Scholars Bowl competition at 2:45 p.m. in the Union ballroom.

For prospective transfers interested in watching Saturday's final rounds, or in attending the Rebel baseball team's game with Christian Brothers College of Lady Rebel's basketball contest with Mississippi College, overnight accommodations are available with advance notice to the University's Office of Pre-Admissions, telephone (601) 232-7378 or toll-free in Mississippi 1-800-222-5102.

and Mrs. Charles Burton Sr. PRC Football Coach Mike Nelson said he was especially glad to offer football scholarships to these outstanding players. Nelson said PRC was only offering a few football scholarships this year and that HNC is the only school where this many players have been signed. (Staff photo by Brenda Heathcock)

HNC Hawks to play spring football game Friday

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
The Hancock North Central High School Hawks will complete spring football practice Friday with a match-up against the George County Rebels.

Head Coach Irvin Favre said 55 players will be dressed out for the game which will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Hawk stadium.

"We have been working real hard but it has not been the best weather for anything outside," he said.

Instead of spring football practice, it has been more like duck practice, Favre said.

The George County Rebels have a lot of returning football team members this year and are dressing out more than 70 players, he said.

"This should be a tough game for the Hawks because the Rebels are a very strong team and are expected to be one of the top teams in the state in the 1987 season," Favre stated.

"We have a lot of new faces and the game this week will be a test," he added.

It's tough rebuilding when you lose 13 senior players and especially when nine of them were starters, Favre said.

The 1986 Hawk team tallied an impressive record of eight wins and two losses. At one point in the season, the team was ranked No. 5 among prep high school football teams by the Associated Press.

"We lost 75 percent of the backfield including players with a lot of speed and a quarterback who should throw the long ball," he said.

"We are not satisfied with the defensive team at this point but they are untested and we do not know what they will do in a game," he added.

Favre believes the 1987 Hawk team's strength will be the defensive unit which has only two newcomers. "Basically we will just have to wait and see what is going to happen," Favre said.

Prior to the varsity game, there will be a B-team scrimmage. The scrimmage will begin at 6 p.m.

Favre said the scrimmage is planned to give each of the young and inexperienced team members a chance to play.

Following the game, the 50-Yardline Booster Club is hosting a dinner for the George County Rebels, all Hawk team members and parents.

The event is planned to generate more interest and members for the booster club.

Mississippi's 1987 Special Olympics to be in Biloxi

Mississippi Special Olympics reported last week the game site of the 1987 Mississippi Special Olympic State Summer Games. This year's annual event will be in Biloxi.

More than 1200 mentally handicapped children and adults from across the state will converge on the Mississippi Gulf Coast for the three day event to be held May 15-17.

The opening ceremony for the three day event will be at Biloxi Stadium, Friday, May 15, with the scheduled 13 sporting events beginning the morning of May 16 and concluding Sunday, May 17.

This year's Special Olympics State Summer Games marks the first time the Mississippi Gulf Coast will serve as host of the annual event which draws statewide interest, not to mention the anticipation of the participants of the games.

Keesler Air Force base and Jitney

Jungle food stores will be major sponsors of this year's annual event. Keesler providing the housing for Special Olympians and Jitney Jungle taking on the responsibility of providing meals for athletes, coaches and chaperones. The public is invited and encouraged to attend.

CEHS to participate in tournament this week

The Coast Episcopal Raiders played their last home and conference game of the season last Friday against Life Christian Academy of New Orleans. The Raiders came up with their best effort of the year losing a close game 37-34.

The game was close all the way with a last second turnover and free throw providing the difference.

The Raiders handled the full court zone press exceptionally well, getting several lay-ups in the second half.

Junior Keith Ott played an excellent game all around scoring nine points and blocking two shots. Junior Jason Evans provided some much needed scoring punch, contributing eight points and five rebounds. Mike Kergosien, sophomore, added seven points and three rebounds, while Chris Riggs, junior, had five points.

Freshman Billy Guice and seventh grader Brandon Smith each scored one point.

The Raider girls and boys basketball teams will participate in the Gulf Coast Christian Athletic Conference end-of-season tournament this week in New Orleans.

The girls have an opportunity to wrap up their best season yet and will play for the conference championship Friday at 1 p.m. at the PARD Gym on the West Bank.

The boys play Thursday at 1:30 p.m. in a conference quarterfinal contest at River Oaks Academy.

Swimmers tournament bound

Coach Mike Giles will take what he considers his strongest Golden Eagle swim team ever to the Metro Conference tournament Feb. 25-28 at the University of South Carolina facility in Columbia, S.C.

Giles' men's and women's teams have compiled 5-6 and 5-7 records respectively this season, and the swing of just a few points could have improved that record dramatically.

The Eagle men and women finished sixth in last year's tournament (also at South Carolina), but Giles says it's not inconceivable that his team could break every existing USM team record and mount a strong challenge for third or fourth place.

"South Carolina, Florida State and Cincinnati all have strong programs," says Giles. "But we're also making progress every year and the potential for dramatic improvement is there every time out."

"This has been an outstanding season for us, and I think we've shown more progress this season than in any year since we've had a program. We've competed successfully against some of the better talent in the South, and I feel this will be a plus for us at the Metro Tournament."

Some of the current season highlights include 13 broken school records during the regular season, records that normally don't improve until the season ending tournament, and outstanding performances by several Eagle swimmers.

Bernie Geisen is one of several swimmers who has had outstanding seasons for the Golden Eagles and who is expected to challenge for a top five finish at the conference meet.

In addition, Jimmy Roberts, last season's top scorer, has broken all his own records this season and should finish in the top five in the 100 and 200 fly events. Jamie Gardner, a freshman freestyler/backstroke, currently holds the school record in the 50 free, 100 breast, 200 IM, and also could be a top five finisher in several events.

John Nelson, a distance freestyler, has broken 55, 100 and 1,650 free style records at USM and also will be a challenger. Another challenger at the conference meet will be Vicky Rian who has had an outstanding season in the distance events.

Annual Bogalusa Chamber of Commerce Junior Invitational golf tournament set

In keeping with tradition, a very strong and talented group of junior golfers from Louisiana and Mississippi is expected in Bogalusa on April 15-17, for the 11th Annual Bogalusa Chamber of Commerce Junior Invitational Golf Championship.

The tournament—played on the Bogalusa Country Club Golf Course—is held during the Easter holidays when area youngsters are enjoying Spring vacation.

"We expect to continue the fine tradition set forth in the previous 10 years and we are striving to make this year's tournament even better," said Bill Mohon, tournament chairman. "Total community involvement, such as merchants donating prizes for top finishing golfers adds to the strength of our tournament," Mohon added.

Youngsters (boys and girls) ages 13-17 are eligible to enter. Players are flighted following the first day of play and trophies are awarded to the winner and runner-up in each flight.

Entry blanks are available by contacting the Bogalusa Chamber of Commerce at 608 Willis Avenue, Bogalusa, La. 70427, or by calling (504) 735-5731.

Entry forms may also be available at area schools and country clubs. Entry deadline is April 13.

USM coaching spot filled

The University of Southern Mississippi Saturday filled a vacant assistant coaching position with the addition of Steve Davis, who will serve as defensive backfield coach for the Golden Eagles.

The appointment was announced by USM head coach Jim Carmody and athletic director Bill McEllan and is effective immediately.

Davis moves to USM from Livingston University where he served last season as defensive coordinator and secondary coach. He holds both bachelor's and master's degrees from Livingston where he was a standout player in the early '70's.

Prior to working at Livingston, he served as secondary coach at the University of North Alabama where his teams posted impressive defensive standards, along with a 43-8-4 record in five seasons. UNA won Gulf South Conference championships and earned NCAA Division II playoff spots in both 1980 and 1983.

He coached six defensive backs at UNA who earned All-GSC honors, including one first-team All-America choice. His UNA secondaries had at least 21 interceptions every year and tied league records with 28 in '83.

"We're very excited about him (Coach Davis) joining our staff," said Coach Carmody. "He has great credentials as a secondary coach and should aid greatly in our defensive planning since he also has served as a defensive coordinator. He has put together some outstanding defensive teams and we look forward to having him with us."

Davis, who is an Alleville, Ala., native and is married to the former Brenda Hasty, says he's looking forward to the move. "Obviously I'm excited to be moving into a program with the stature USM enjoys," he said. "I look forward to working with Coach Carmody and his fine staff."

The Davises are parents of one daughter, Whitney Leigh, age one. He replaced Dyer Carline who resigned recently to accept a coaching position at Mississippi State.

Bassin' with the pros

by Trey Foerster

My absolute favorite structure to fish is timber, especially fallen trees. I can remember times in my youth when my dad would guide the boat into a bay and we'd literally pulverize the pulp out of the submerged trees. As I was to find out in later years, these trees not only house bass, but they attract smaller forage fish as well.

Most pros start out by stressing boat positioning is the most important key to fishing fallen timber. What positioning insures is fewer hand ups by flailing the outreaching limbs in a vertical fashion, that is, up and down the length of the limb. Equally important is the element of patience—very few bass are caught by jigging through a tree once or twice!

According to Guido Hibdon, Johnson Outboards Pro Team member, his first choice of lure and presentation would be to roll a spinnerbait by the trunk. "If that doesn't result in a strike, I'd probably flip in to it with a jig, as light a jig as I could to do what I wanted. I'd use a black jig with one of my crawdads, a No. 1 frog, or a black Spring Lizard."

Which side of the trunk or the branches should an angler favor? If there is a current, the bass will be located on the upcurrent side of the structure, that is, the bass faces into the current. Remember, if the wind is blowing enough, that does create a current in very shallow water. But here, shallow water generally means 15-20 feet.

"The fish itself, being a bass, is going to take to the shady side and it really doesn't matter what time of year it is," emphasizes Hibdon. "The bass is going to need shade to protect his eyes."

For the most part, fishing in timber means using a spinnerbait or a crank bait and up to 20-pound test line to pull lunkers safely out of the spaghetti of branches and shoots. Also remember that your presentation has to adapt to the metabolic activity of the bass—the colder the water, the slower the retrieve; the warmer, the quicker the action.

For jigging, 17-20 pound test line and a baitcasting reel are prescribed and spoons should weigh from three-quarters to one ounce. A good silver spoon, like the Hopkins, is built for straight drops to the bottom, which is essential if you're going to move it through the branches properly. Should you get hung up, the design of the spoon allows it to work itself free most of the time.

The angler should realize that bass most often hit a spoon as it's dropping, so the "feathering" feed technique should be employed in stripping out line for the sinking spoon. If the spoon stops falling, set that hook and get ready for a fight!

Finally, remember that jigging through a tree once or twice may not produce any strikes. Your patience and dedication will pay off after you've penetrated that patch of cover eight, 12 or as many as 20 times. With a slow and systematic approach, the treasure of the timber will be yours.

Fishermen running a lot of electrical equipment on their bass boat might consider installing a voltmeter. One of the easiest instruments for the do-it-yourselfer to install, a voltmeter monitors battery voltage, the operation of alternator on the motor and the function of the voltage regulator.

BID TREE CONTEST

(Bob Daniels)
The publication of the American Forestry Association's (AFA) National Register of Big Trees marks nearly half a century of cooperative effort by big-tree lovers across the country. The National Big Tree Program seeks to identify the largest known living specimen of each native and naturalized tree species in the United States.

The AFA has served as the "keeper of the Big Trees" since the program began in 1940. The National Big Tree Program seeks to encourage the appreciation of one of our greatest renewable natural resources, trees. Although it focuses on the notably large trees, the program is also intended to remind the American public of the valuable role trees play in enhancing our quality of life.

Mississippi 4-H members have a similar program titled Champion Big Trees of Mississippi. The program's purpose is to locate, measure and recognize the largest individual tree of each species in Mississippi.

Champion Big trees are determined on the basis of points awarded to three different measurements: circumference, height and crown spread.

4-H members involved in the forestry project can have some fun and get some recognition at the same time by locating and nominating a Champion Big Tree. It may not be easy to find trees bigger than the champions already listed and may be even more difficult to find a new national champion. But, if you do find a champion, you will receive a certificate recognizing you as the locator and nominator of the largest tree of a certain species in Mississippi.

You might think it is nearly impossible to find a tree larger than the current champions, but you never know. Some new champions replace old champion trees every year. Someone is finding them, and it might as well be you. Some champions have even been located in the middle of a town.

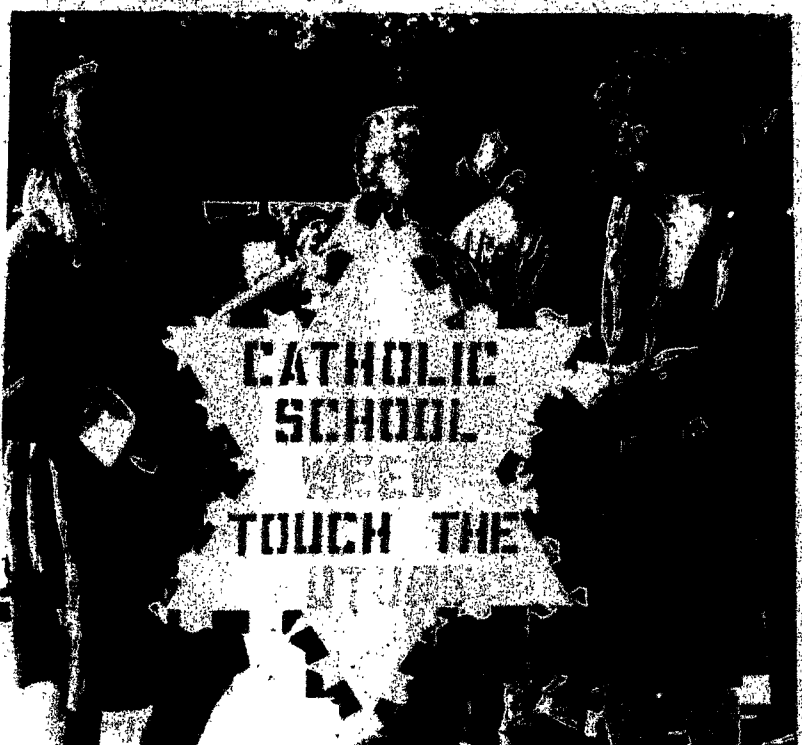

Another way to find a champion tree is to locate a tree of a species that has not yet been nominated and listed. Many different species grow in Mississippi that are not represented on the list of champions. Thus, any tree you find from a species that is not listed at present can be a new champion, no matter what its size.

Another interesting way to become involved in the Big Tree Program is by starting a county program. We already have national and state programs, and a county program would be a good way to involve more Hancock County 4-H members in the forestry project.

You and your club may be able to get a program started in Hancock County. With a new county program, plenty of county champions can be found and more 4-H members can become involved. Contact the Hancock County Extension office for more information.

READY TO MARCH—Fifth grade students prepare to join St. Clare School's recent March for the Hungry.

Second semester scholarship presented to J'Lene Noto

The second semester scholarship of $250 from the Emily de Montluzin Foreign Language Scholarship Fund has been presented to J'Lene Noto, a 1986 graduate of Our Lady's Academy.

J'Lene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boo Noto, received a 4.0 in French for her first semester at Louisiana State University, and an overall grade point average of 3.2.

The scholarship is presented each year to a graduating senior of Hancock County who has excelled in a two year foreign language course.

Students attending the following schools in Hancock County are invited to apply for the scholarship: Bay Senior High School, Hancock North Central, Our Lady's Academy, and St. Stanislaus.

For further information on the scholarship applications, please contact Mrs. Emily de Montluzin, 467-4006 or Mrs. Mary Lee Lagarde, 467-6686, or your guidance counselor. Applications are being sent to these schools and the deadline for entering is May 1, 1987.

Contributors in 1986 to the Emily de Montluzin Foreign Language Scholarship Fund are:

Theresa Bourgeois, Charles Patrick Coote, Evan Coote, Emily de Montluzin, Lorraine de Montluzin, Keith Folse, James Ginn, Susan L. Indest, Ruth Johns, Claire Jung, W.D. Kellog, Jason Ladner, Joshua Ladner, Julie Lagasse, Mickey Lagasse, Hazel McCreery, Elisabeth Mallini, Claire Blount Marx, Nancy Murphy, Barbara Pursley, Leo Seal, Trudy Stanton, Dorothy Sutton, Senator and Mrs. Gene Taylor, Lucille M. Witter, Joe Wusnack and Prima Wusnack.

Three $500 scholarships have now been distributed and plans are being made that would make this fund self-perpetuating. Toward this end, the Board is still seeking donations from all citizens in Hancock County.

The Board is dedicated to making this a permanent annual scholarship, but this can only be done with the cooperation of the residents in the community.

Contributions may be made at any

Hancock Bank to the Emily de Montluzin Foreign Language Scholarship Fund, or by contacting any of the following Board Members: Ellis Cuevas, Emily de Montluzin, Dorothy di Benedetto, George di Benedetto, Leo Seal and Richard (Dick) Thomas.

ACT TO SAVE OUR STATE UNIVERSITIES, NOW!

House Bill 1211, currently under consideration in the Mississippi State House of Representatives, would raise $117 million in additional state revenue.

This is your chance to act.

Write your state representative to encourage passage of House Bill 1211. Money from this important bill could be used to restore adequate funding to the state universities, funding which has been cut for five out of the past six years. It would also provide funding for other important statewide programs.

The Majority favors increased funding for Higher Education.

In a survey of registered voters, 75% said they would support increased funding for state-supported universities. An overwhelming 68.6% said they favored a tax increase rather than further cuts to higher education funding.

If you are among the majority of thinking, concerned Mississippi citizens, turn your words to action now. Support House Bill 1211.

Don't Worry

As an expectant parent, you probably worry about many things. The Regional Women's Center at Slidell Memorial Hospital and Medical Center wants to relieve some of those worries, making this as pleasant, and happy a time as it should be for all new parents.

Neonatal Intensive Care Unit

Slidell Memorial Hospital and Medical Center has an advanced level Neonatal Intensive Care Unit to care for critically ill newborns. Located in the Women's Center adjacent to the Well-Baby Nursery, the NICU provides the latest in high technology care for sick babies. But we haven't forgotten the human touch, either. Our staff of caring, professional nurses will make sure your baby gets the finest, most loving care possible.

Educational Programs

A variety of educational programs are available through the Women's Center. These classes include pre-natal exercise, grandparenting, prenatal nutrition and care; a Tyke Hyke for siblings-to-be; Lamaze classes; instruction on breastfeeding, and nutrition for your newborn. We have a Women's Resource Suite where you can view videotapes, browse through pamphlets, or attend seminars on important health topics for women.

Beautiful Beginnings

This one-price package includes all charges for a normal delivery at Slidell Memorial Hospital and Medical Center. Choose from a 36-hour, 48-hour, or 72-hour stay. If you are an insured patient, Slidell Memorial Hospital will absorb your unreimbursed expenses up to $500. During your stay, we'll provide a "Celebration of Life" dinner for new parents, and send you home with an infant carseat. For Dads, we have "Dads On Call." We'll provide expectant fathers with a beeper to ensure that they won't miss your special delivery.

Peace of Mind

You'll have the knowledge that you and your new baby are receiving the finest, most up-to-date care possible at Slidell Memorial Hospital and Medical Center. With 27 years experience delivering babies, Slidell Memorial Hospital knows how to relieve your worries about your priceless delivery. Call us at 643-2200 for more information.

St. Stanislaus students excel in state math and science tournament

ST. STANISLAUS students who participated in the State Science and Mathematics Tournament are, from left, David Bourgeois, Frank Burdette, Marco Lau, Steve Bous, Yasia Shabari, Steve Montagnet, Jose Lau, David Bast, Joel Thames, Albert Bollen, and James Thriffley, faculty moderator. (SSC photo)

Students from St. Stanislaus High School participated in the State Science and Mathematics Tournament held recently at Mississippi College in Clinton. Eighty-one schools and approximately 750 of the state's top students competed for highest academic honors in biology, chemistry, physics and mathematics.

David Bourgeois, Steve Bous, Joel Thames, and Mike Vegas finished in the top 10 percent in the state in the individual awards. In the mathematics competition Steve Bous placed second in the state and David Bourgeois was the overall state champion.

In the physics competition Joel Thames scored in the top 10 percent, Steve Bous was third in the state, and David Bourgeois placed second in the state. In the biology competition Mike Vegas placed second in the state.

In the panel competition the St. Stanislaus team of Steve Montagnet, Steve Bous, Joel Thames and captain David Bourgeois finished second in the state. In the first round St. Stanislaus scored 188 points in defeating Greenville High School, Woodland High School, Coast Episcopal, and Forest High School.

In the finals St. Stanislaus defeated Collins High School, Oxford High School, Central Academy, Northwest Franklin, Tupelo High School, and they were the state runner-up to Florence High School. James Thriffley, chairman of the Science Department at St. Stanislaus, accompanied the students to the state competition.

FOOD BILLS.

NO SPECIALS,
NO DOUBLE COUPONS,
NO GIMMICKS.

Just absolutely lower pricing on every item, every day—to give you the minimum total food bill. Every week. To make this possible, Delchamps is taking an important step: We've eliminated weekly specials. This has been a very expensive way to attract more customers. And to make up for it, supermarkets have had to keep all their other prices high.

Instead, the New Delchamps is doing business in a whole new way. With Everyday Minimum Pricing. No games or gimmicks. Just the minimum possible prices to give you the minimum total food bill. It's a bold way to run a supermarket. And we're making it work. For all of us.
